Keys to Beginning Reading Delivered by KTL Trainers

Guidelines for Dyslexia Support Teacher Professional Development

The Ohio Dyslexia Support requirement for all K-3 teachers and teachers providing special education instruction to children in K-12 is to complete a minimum of 18 hours in an approved course. Districts that want to provide this training using Keys to Literacy trainers have two options: All-live Training (delivered onsite or virtual-live using Zoom), OR Facilitated Online Training. See details below for each option.

All-Live Training

This PD can be delivered face-to-face onsite, OR virtual-live using Zoom. The full Keys to Beginning Reading training course takes 36 hours to complete (i.e., 6 full days). The chart below breaks the course into two parts. KTL will work with your school district to develop a schedule that meets your needs. Each day of training needs to be scheduled to include 6 hours of training delivery time. (Sample Schedule: 8:00-3:00 with a 30-minute lunch and two, 15-minute breaks)

Part 1: 18 hours	Part 2: 18 hours

Some Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Do teachers have to complete the full KBR course to meet the requirement?

A: The ODE is leaving it up to districts to determine if teachers need to complete the full course or if completing the first 18 hours is sufficient. The charts above show how of the course must be completed to meet the 18-hour requirement.

Q: What information does Keys to Literacy provide districts about participation/completion of KBR training?

A: For all-live training and facilitated-online sessions – KTL trainers take attendance at training sessions; KTL will make attendance lists available to the district.

Q: Does Keys to Literacy provide a Certificate of Completion?

A: For all-live training – KTL will provide a blank template for a Certificate of Completion to the district. The district can complete this or their own form to issue certificates to teachers based on the actual number of hours of participation.

A: For facilitated online training – As noted above, Certificates of Completion are accessed within the online course.
